

Spinnaker

The uridan Spinnaker urinal partition is a standout example of how thoughtful design can transform a functional element into a sophisticated design feature.

Beyond its aesthetic value, the uridan urinal partition enhances the user experience and privacy - key considerations in any commercial amenities design.

The uridan Spinnaker's form and scale deliver a sense of separation and comfort without visually enclosing the space. This contributes to a balanced spatial rhythm, supporting both functional efficiency and user well-being.

Key Benefits

Design:

Uridan's designers have refined every curve and proportion to ensure the partition sits comfortably within contemporary interiors - from minimalist corporate fit-outs to expressive hospitality environments.

Technology:

The uridan urinal partition is wall hung with hidden brackets, simple curved lines and smooth surfaces - contributing to a clean, user friendly and hygienic environment in high traffic commercial amenities

Sustainability:

Every organisation can contribute to the future. uridan is a daily essential that makes the world better by creating products that not only save precious water every day, but have sustainability at the core of each design.
